

WOMEN'S VOICES NOW

OUR MISSION

Women's Voices Now is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization using film to drive social change that advances girls' and women's rights globally.

OUR VISION

We envision a global culture shift in which communities and institutions believe in the value of gender equality, and adapt their behaviors and actions to support systematic advancement of girls' and women's rights.

OUR APPROACH

We promote filmmakers, produce social-change films, and engage audience members to advance girls' and women's rights.

FILM FESTIVAL

Our Film Festival promotes emerging filmmakers making social-change films that advocate for girls' and women's rights around the world.

YOUTH PROGRAM

Girls' Voices Now empowers girls from under-resourced communities of Los Angeles to find, develop, and use their voice for social change through filmmaking.

FILM COLLECTION

Our free Film Collection, Voices for Change, raises awareness of the struggles and triumphs of women and girls around the globe, inviting audience members to support girls' and women's rights.

OUR IMPACT

Since 2011, we have received 1070+ film submissions from 85+ countries and awarded $130,000 in cash prizes to filmmakers.

Since 2018, we have served 80 girls from under-resourced communities and produced 21 youth-made short films seen by over 1.5 million online viewers - and won a Daytime Emmy!

Our Film Collection includes 200+ films in 44 different languages and has attracted 20M+ online viewers from 178 countries around the world.

OUR GLOBAL PARTNERS

Since 2017, we have held special consultative status to the United Nations ECOSOC. Our work is internationally recognized for impacting six of the UN Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDGs).
