

My name is Susana Torres Padilla, I am a Junior about to go into the Senior institute at Arise High School. My school is a small Social Justice charter school in the fruitvale village in Oakland Ca. I live in San Leandro Ca with my parents and siblings, I am the youngest of 3. People describe me as loud, fun, and a lovely caring human being. I like to do my makeup and take selfies. I also like helping out my community. Even the smallest details count such as, helping my elders with the door, respecting them and more... My both parents are Mexican. They are from a small town in the state of Michoacan In Mexico called Chavinda. December is beautiful out there specially in June. Even though I was born here in the United States I love my Mexican Culture because that's how I was raised. I am grateful to be here in the U.S and I owe everything to my parents. Everyone comes here for a better future. I will do everything that I can to make them happy and not regret nothing they had to go through. When it comes to presenting I am not shy, I believe that I am confident. I am a strong women and I know I could accomplish everything I purpose to myself. I could be a little irritating but I promise I will bring you good vibes only. Oh I almost forgot this one, I am a morning person (sometimes) but I will assure you that I will always say Goodmorning to you! I really want to go to college but I have no idea what I am going to study. Becoming a teacher has been on my mind lately but I am indecisive, Hopefully by the end of the year my thoughts are clear and I know what I want to do. I've always said that I want to get married young and travel around the world with my husband. The first place that I really want to go to is Mexico. Yes Mexico because there are some beautiful beaches. And I feel like I need to know it more, learn more about the History. Then, after all that traveling I would love to have kids. Before ending this I want to tell you, yes you whoever that is reading this that I have Scoliosis. I wanted to tell you because I believe that it is a big part of me. But I am strong and it doesn't stop me. I hope that I get into the program! It'll be a pleasure to meet you all.
